It is easy to use and it has a.Q: Logic to tell if a string is a palindrome This should be fairly simple but I've never written a program where strings have to be a palindrome before. I'm supposed to take a string, and if it's not a palindrome, it gets flipped and become a palindrome, then return true. If it is a palindrome, return false. I know the way I'm doing it is wrong so if someone can tell me the correct way to do this I would appreciate it greatly. Here is my current code: public static boolean palindrome(String s){ String st = s; String sl = s.length(); int start = 0; int end = sl; while(start Q: Excel Interop Custom User-Defined Type Property I am trying to implement a user-defined type property (c#) in my Excel Interop context, but I am having difficulty (converting from C# to ba244e880a
