La Policía de Investigaciones abrió una causa por el suicidio de un estudiante de la Universidad de Chile tras el desaparición el miércoles pasado de 33 personas y la denuncia de la Fiscalía de Majadahonda de dos casos de supuesta violencia de género. "Suponemos que todas las fallecidas son mujeres, que dejaron sus pertenencias en la morgue del Instituto Nacional, y que son mujeres que fallecieron en Santiago", informó la fiscal jefa del Despacho de Trámites, Laura Montero. Implicit attitudes, explicit attitudes, and expectations: latent variables analysis of five informant data. Latent variable analysis (LVA) was applied to the five informant data reported for attitudes and expectations in White, Black, and Mexican American elementary school children and their teachers. The data represent 596 Black children and 1,304 White children, of whom 590 Black children and 1,178 White children were paired according to their mothers' and teachers' ratings of their English skills. The latent variable process involves the assumption that items manifest as manifest-symptom relationships, latent-symptom relationships, and latent-predictor relationships. Indicators of the latent variables are the manifest variables, the latent variables, and the latent predictor. Analysis indicated that the latent variables and their relationships are consistent and similar across the informants. The results suggest that explicit expectations are more changeable than explicit attitudes and that the two corresponding latent variables are independent. Implications for studies using informant data are discussed. I write today to share that I have come to the end of my journey with Aspergers and I'm now an adult. It's a long time being alone in the dark. The label I've carried with me for a long time has been one of "broken" but not any more. The moment I realised I was no longer broken was a moment I will not forget. It's taken me a long time to realise that I don't want to be defined by one thing. Now I have a whole new
